Railway Goods Shed Lorry Parking Row

Trucks park on MUDA land along Rly. track

- No basic amenities available for over 800 workers at new location
- 2-km public road blocked by Railways still a bone of contention

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (RKB&BCT)- A temporary solution to the Mysore New Goods Terminal (MNGT) truck parking controversy has been arrived at after the parking lot on Jodi Thenginamara Road in Bannimantap has been shifted to a new location.

All the 270-odd trucks that were earlier parked at Taluk Agricultural Produce Cooperative Marketing Society (TAPCMS) premises have moved to Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) land along the Railway track sometime back and this has brought a major relief to commuters on Jodi Thenginamara Road. Earlier, as the trucks were using this particular road, bottlenecks on the stretch were usual and sometimes accidents used to occur due to constant movement of heavy traffic.

Hold cluster phone-in programme of Departments twice a month

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (MTY&DM)- Outgoing Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Chief Executive Officer (CEO) A.M. Yogesh on Monday suggested the officials to conduct cluster phone-in programme of five Government Departments twice a month in order to hear public grievances.

A.M. Yogesh

Speaking to press persons after the conclusion of the hour-long phone-in programme at the ZP Hall here on Monday, Yogesh said that holding of cluster phone-in programmes will help people to air their grievances that are related to multiple Departments. Also, a single phone line has its own limitations and as such, many people can air their grievances or complaints.

He suggested that Departments like Agriculture, Horticulture, Agricultural Marketing and Animal Husbandry can be part of one team and Social Welfare, Senior Citizens Welfare, Backward Classes Welfare, Minorities Welfare and SC/ST Welfare Departments as another, for holding such cluster phone-in programmes for the benefit of public, which should be done twice a month.

He further said that the KDP Progress Review Meeting will take place on Mar. 2, which will be chaired by the District Minister.

Officials from all the Departments should attend the meeting with progress reports as on Feb. 15, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla's concern over the declining number of sittings of Legislature Houses and the fall in standards of their functioning will be shared by everyone. The Speaker expressed his concern at a function of Bihar Legislature. Both Parliament and State Assemblies have seen deterioration of standards for which all Governments and parties and members of the legislatures are responsible. Parliament saw only 33 sittings in 2020, which went up to 58 in 2021, but even this is much less than the number of sittings of Parliaments in other countries. The record of State Assemblies is much worse. Punjab had the lowest number of sittings at 11 last year and UP, Maharashtra and West Bengal had less than 20 sittings. Kerala met 61 days, which was the highest in the country.

It is not just the fewer sittings that show the deterioration of legislatures. Even when they meet, the attendance is low. In the early days of Parliament and Assemblies, Governments and Opposition parties took the Houses seriously and participated in their functioning diligently. That is not the case now. Many of the members are disinterested and ill-informed. The quality of a legislature depends on the quality of its members. Much of the available time is lost in disruptions and uproars. Parliamentary norms and procedures are not always followed. There are few informed debates on issues, Governments' decisions and actions and matters of public interest, as legislatures once used to have.

Even Presiding Officers have lost their stature because they are often seen as partisan. Governments try to sidestep legislatures on many issues. They are considered only as a formal forum which is needed to give legality to the Government. Even this requirement is manipulated with defections and other wrong practices. The important function of law-making is reduced to a farce because many bills are passed without scrutiny. Organs of legislatures like the Standing Committees are not very functional and few bills are sent to them for examination. Legislatures have actually been reduced to a subservient status and the executive has become all-powerful. When the executive becomes supreme and cannot be held to account by the legislature, democracy declines and authoritarianism grows. — In Deccan Herald

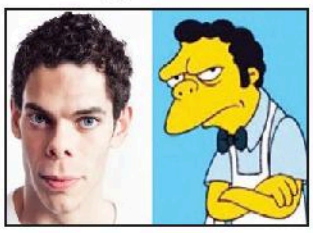
Cartoon characters brought to life



Rio: A Brazilian digital artist has created a fascinating series of "portraits" of popular comic characters using AI. After learning that AI software can create near-real portraits of people who actually do not exist, the artist, Hidreley Leli Diao, decided to use the technology in creative ways.

With state-of-the-art AI photo software, Diao has created lifelike portraits of some of his favourite comic book characters, such as Moe from The Simpsons, Moana, Prince Eric and Ariel from The Little Mermaid, Tinkerbell from Peter Pan and Jasmine and Aladdin. His Instagram handle has AI-assisted portraits of Flynn Rider from Tangled, Belle from Beauty and the Beast, Goku from Dragon Ball, Violet from The Incredibles, and Bruno from Encanto among others. The results are incredible to behold.

"I look for images in banks and overlay the image starting with the eyes. The hardest part is finding an image that matches the character I'm working on," Diao says.

Tooth found growing in man's nose

New York: A man who had breathing problems was stunned to discover a tooth growing inside his nose. The 38-year-old man visited a clinic in Mount Sinai, New York, complaining of difficulty in breathing through his right nostril.

Initial examination found that the man had the bone and cartilage that divide the nasal cavity of the nose displaced and a calcified obstruction towards the back of the septum.

Further examination and a CT scan revealed the surprising diagnosis - a tooth growing inside the nasal cavity. Doctors were able to remove the tooth through oral and oto-laryngologic surgery and the patient is now able to breathe without issues.

Reduce gap between LED street-light poles

Sir,

This refers to the news item titled "LED street-lights not a bright idea!" in Star of Mysore dated Feb. 23. The feeling of insufficiency of lighting by the residents could be real. This can be a result of more than one factor alone of choosing LED as replacement to conventional street-lamps.

First and foremost is the gap between two lamp-posts. While the earlier gap may have been erratically selected without any scientific study (it has remained the same for both florescent tube lights, CFL or Sodium vapour lamps) while replacing it with LED, there is still an opportunity to select the same optimally by conducting a few experiments.

MCC has ignored this aspect because it has depended on the CESC poles (meant for transmission of electricity) to fix the street-lamps and CESC has not considered the street lighting as one of their services. This may be the main reason for this lapse.

Secondly, street-light brightness also depends on the reflectivity of surfaces on which the light falls. It is common scene that all our roads are in terrible conditions — thanks to dug up spots, mud covering, fallen leaves left in place for months, tree branches not trimmed thus further reducing the effectiveness.

Several intervening buildings adjoining the streets do not have bright reflective surfaces. Also the wattage selected for street-lights, as rightly mentioned in the report, may have to be reconsidered.

Since LED lights consume far less energy than other lamps and also lend themselves for smart operation of on-and-off, it will be wiser to ponder over reducing the gap between two street-lights rather than trashing it altogether. Even if an additional lamp is used in between the poles, there will still be a lot of energy saved.

Government issues notification for appointment of 15,000 teachers

One percent of posts to be reserved for transgenders

Bengaluru, Feb. 24- As a first step in connection with the appointment of teachers, the State Government on Wednesday issued draft notification of the rules for appointment of 15,000 teachers to various Government Schools across the State.

In a significant decision, the Government decided to reserve 1 percent of teacher posts for transgender community. This is the first time in Karnataka's history that candidates from the community will be employed in Education Department. As per the draft notification, at least 150 posts will be reserved for transgender candidates. The decision was based on amendments to Karnataka Civil Service (General recruitment) Rules, 1977, following a petition filed in Karnataka High Court, it is learnt.

Department of Public Instruction Commissioner Dr. R. Vishal said that this was the first recruitment that the Department was doing after the amendments were brought in. In case there are no applications or less than 1 percent applications, the posts will be automatically converted to other categories, he added.

But the transgender community is unlikely to get any relaxation in eligibility criteria. They must have the necessary educational qualification and cleared the Teacher Eligibility Test (TET).

According to officials, the Common Entrance Test for recruitment of 15,000 teachers, to teach students of standards 6 to 8 in Government Schools, will be conducted soon.

INDIRA CANTEEN REALITY CHECK - 1

Less truckers, so fewer takers for Jodi Thenginamara Road canteen

It gets limited food supply as truckers have a new location

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (RKB&BCT)- The Jodi Thenginamara Road that begins at one end of Moulana Abul Kalam Azad Circle (Highway Circle) usually buzzes with sound-and-dust-raising goods trucks. Starting from the crack of dawn till late in the night, the road is busy, thanks to hundreds of goods trucks that carry goods that arrive in trains to Mysuru.

The trucks are parked in the Railway Goods Shed parking on this road. Keeping in mind the large trucker population and allied workforce, an Indira Canteen was set up on the Jodi Thenginamara Road exclusively to cater to the food needs of loaders, drivers, agents and cleaners.

But now as the Railway Goods Shed parking has been shifted to Gumnam Shavali Dargah nearby, the entire truckers operation has moved there, leaving the Jodi Thenginamara Road with only a few truckers.

This has directly impacted the functioning of Indira Canteen here and most of the times, the canteen premises is deserted or there are only a few people.

Jodi Thenginamara Road canteen was opened in the first batch along with 11 Indira Canteens that were opened across Mysuru city in January 2018. Very soon, the food became quite popular here and the majority of the people who ate here came from the Railway Goods Shed.

This apart, people from nearby localities including the group housing scheme residents frequented the canteen for breakfast, lunch and dinner. As the food was dirt cheap and good quality was maintained, people never shied away from having food there. After sumptuous food for as low as Rs. 5 and 10, the truckers used to return to their vehicles after having a smoke and tea in the nearby shops. This was their usual routine.

Quantity reduced

Every day for breakfast 200 to 250 idlis were made to cater to the needs at the canteen and lunch daily was made using 60 to 65 kgs of rice. A minimum of 100 people used to come here every morning for breakfast and over 200 people used to come for lunch and dinner.

Ever since the Railway Goods Shed has been shifted from Jodi Thenginamara Road, walk-ins to the Indira Canteen has reduced drastically and only 100 idlis are served in the morning while a limited 15 kg rice is prepared for lunch. Even the night crowd has reduced as the street is devoid of trucks after 6 pm. Even the people living around the canteen come here sparsely.

Limited food supply

Though there is no compromise in the food quality, there are fewer takers and as such, canteen food managers supply less food here as it might go waste if excess food is brought, said sources. Not that there is no one to have food here, the canteen still serves the poor and economically marginalised.

Balaji, a daily wager said that he has breakfast, lunch and dinner at this canteen as other hotels are not affordable. "Even the Darshini hotels are expensive when compared to the food that is available for Rs. 5 and 10 here. The canteen is a boon to people like me," he said.

MCC distributes financial assistance cheques to 150 artists

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (PM&DM)- As a poverty alleviation measure, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) on Monday distributed cheques of Rs. 10,000 each to 150 artists, who are facing financial problems due to job loss or other such reasons, at a programme organised at the MCC premises.

Speaking after distributing cheques, Mayor Sunanda Palanetra said that Mysuru is known for its tradition of encouraging and promoting artists for centuries.

Pointing out that this programme was organised to provide financial assistance to artists from BPL families, she said that perhaps no other City Corporation had come to the aid of artists, who are facing a lot of hardship following the outbreak of the deadly COVID pandemic.

Mayor Sunanda Palanetra distributing cheques to beneficiaries at MCC premises on Monday.

Those artists who lost out this time will be considered for relief the next time, she added.

MCC Additional Commissioner M.J. Roopa said that following a MCC Council resolution, artists are provided financial assistance by the MCC every year since 2015.

Pointing out that 150 artists were distributed Rs. 10,000 cheque each under the Rs. 15 lakh special fund, she said that the MCC had received 188 applications for the relief, out of which 150 beneficiaries were selected based on seniority and other considerations. The remaining 38 applicants will be considered the next time, for which they have to submit the necessary documents, she added.

She further said that while 25 of the beneficiaries were distributed cheques symbolically, the rest of the 125 beneficiaries will get the money through RTGS mode of payment.

MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Deputy Mayor Anwar Baig and several Corporators and officials were present.

A poet at heart, though a thief

Mandya, Feb. 24 (Mohan Raj&BCT)- A thief, whose attempt to steal money and valuables from an Anganwadi in Mandya district was unsuccessful, wrote a good piece of literature comprising stories and poetry before he left the place. He stayed at the Anganwadi all through the night and gave work to his mind to create the literature. He even cooked 'Puliyogare' in the kitchen.

The incident was reported on the night of Tuesday at Hebbani village near Malavalli of Mandya district. Thinking that the Anganwadi will surely contain money and valuables, the thief broke into the building. After thoroughly searching the shelves, the burglar realised that except for a few books and notebooks, there was nothing else to steal there.

He was hungry too and prepared 'Puliyogare' with the ready-mix powder and rice and had it to his satisfaction. After dinner, he decided to retire for the night. Meanwhile, his muse inspired him to pick up a pen and a notebook to write stories and poetry. After writing in Kannada — with neat handwriting and legible words — about three pages, the burglar rested his thoughts and slept.

He left the Anganwadi at the crack of dawn. The burglary and the thief's creative juice were witnessed by Anganwadi worker who came there to open the doors. She alerted the Pandithanahalli Panchayat Development Officer (PDO) who complained to Malavalli Rural Police Station.

STORIES OF HUMANITY

In his writing, the burglar has narrated the story of a boy who was accused of killing his mother and subsequently forcing him to leave the village. Almost all the stories touched upon innocence, motherhood, earth, hunger and life. All the stories — or lines — have been dated as 16-7-1991.

Other stories focussed on his family lineage, how a couple had sheltered orphan children, how a certain youth was branded as a thief by villagers. Here too, he has affixed the date 16-7-1991. Concluding his stories, the burglar wrote 'coming, coming, coming' in the end. Villagers have expressed their doubts over a youth in the neighbourhood and accordingly, the Police complaint has been filed, said Child Development Project Officer (CDPO) Kumar.

Newly-wed commits suicide

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (RK&KS)- A newly-wed couple, who had got married against the wishes of their parents, have committed suicide by hanging themselves from a tree on late Tuesday night near Bilikere in Hunsur taluk. The incident came to light yesterday morning when villagers saw the bodies hanging from the tree.

The deceased have been identified as Rakesh (24), son of Vijayakumar, a resident of Singamaranahalli village in Bilikere hobli and a 17-year-old girl.

Residents of the same village, Rakesh and the girl were said to be in love since about two years and their parents on learning about this had opposed their relationship besides advising them.

Even though the elders had advised them, Rakesh and the girl, who were hell-bent on marrying each other, had left their homes on September 2021 and their parents had lodged missing complaints on Sept. 23 and Sept. 29, 2021. The Police, who had registered a case had launched a search but were unable to trace Rakesh and the girl. MCC team led by Mayor raids hookah bars in city

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (RK&KS)- A team of officials from Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), led by Mayor Sunanda Palanetra and elected representatives, who conducted surprise raids, on hookah bars violating norms, have issued warning of legal action against them.

As decided during the MCC Council Meeting, Mayor Sunanda Palanetra, Dy. Mayor Anwar Baig, former Mayor Ayub Khan, Standing Committee on Health Chairperson Usha Kumar, Ruling Party leader Shivakumar, JD(S) leader Ashwini Ananthu and others raided four hookah bars coming under MCC Zone-4 and inspected the premises.

A few hookah bars in V.V. Mohalla and Gokulam had not created smoking zones and customers were seen smoking in dining hall area and were also entertaining minors and functioning illegally, following which two hookah bars were sealed and notices were served to two other hookah bars.

There are 17 hookah bars in MCC limits out of which only six have obtained Trade Licence. As none of them were following rules, notices were served, said MCC Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj to SOM. He further said, as per the Commissioner's order, such raids will continue and hookah bars that are operating illegally will be closed down and added that on learning about the raids a few hookah bars had downed the shutters.

MCC Zone-4 Zonal Officer Chandramma, Health Inspectors Prakash and Satish and others took part in the raid.

Man gets life imprisonment for killing wife

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (KS)- City's 5th Additional District and Sessions Court has sentenced a man to life imprisonment and has imposed a fine of Rs. 5,000 on him after he was found guilty of killing his wife by strangulating her.

The man who was sentenced for killing his wife Muthu is Chandra, a resident of Chikkamaranahalli in Bettadapura Police limits in Periyapatna taluk.

Details: Chandra, who had married Muthu of Maratikoppal in Periyapatna about 15 years ago, used to doubt her whenever she used to speak with other men and used to hit her, it is learnt.

On May 12, 2018, Muthu, after casting her vote, had gone to some place and when she returned home later, Chandra had assaulted her severely following which Muthu's mother and her brother had advised Chandra. But on May 14, 2018 at about 4 am, Chandra strangled Muthu with a nylon wire and killed her.

Bettadapura Police, who had registered a case, had begun investigation. The then Circle Inspector Siddaiah had submitted a charge-sheet to the Court. Judge Ashvini Vijay Shiriyannavar, who took up the case, heard arguments from both sides, found Chandra guilty of the crime and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

Public Prosecutor Nagappa C. Nakaman argued on behalf of the Government.

CM launches Daiva Sankalpa project

- Chamundi Hill and 24 other temples to get facelift
- Basavaraj Bommai calls for Temple Tourism
- Moots Tourism Circuit linking North, South, Coast

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai lighting the lamp to inaugurate the Integrated Temple Management System in Bengaluru yesterday as Minister for Muzrai Shashikala Jolle, MLA S.A. Ramdas and State Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri look on.

Bengaluru, Feb. 24 (KMS & BCT)- Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai yesterday launched the Integrated Temple Management System (ITMS) developed by the Hindu Endowments Department. The ITMS is a mobile app which seeks to streamline information on Temples for devotees.

The CM also flagged off the 'Daiva Sankalpa' project under which 205 Category 'A' Muzrai temples will get a facelift. In the first phase, 25 temples will be developed at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,140 crore.

This will cover popular temples like Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill in Mysuru, Kukke Subrahmanya, Male Mahadeshwara, Kollur Mookambika, Yediyur Siddhalingeshwara, Savadatti Yellamma and others. Accommodation facilities, roads, drinking water, multilevel car parking, food halls, commercial complexes, toilets and solid waste management will be provided under the 'Daiva Sankalpa' project.

ITMS features

The ITMS will provide details of temples, including properties owned by them, route maps to reach temples, sevas offered and their rate charts, among other details. It will also be a gateway for devotees to donate money and help generate revenue for temples. Citizens can book slots for various sevas and also donate to temples by visiting itms.kar.nic.in

The inauguration was held in the presence of Minister for Muzrai, Haj & Wakf Shashikala Annasaheb Jolle, MLA S.A. Ramdas and State Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri.

Speaking on the occasion, Bommai said the temple managements should be given priority and there is a need to record the number of pilgrims visiting temples and the system to manage temple assets needs to be streamlined.

Bommai advocated the need for a master plan to provide amenities at the temples. Emphasising on building a Tourism Circuit, the Chief Minister said, there is immense potential for Temple Tourism in Northern, Southern and coastal parts of Karnataka.

Integrated development of temples

Integrated development of temples and reforms in their administration should be taken up. "Along with management, proper control is needed as it involves the contribution of pilgrims and assets of temples," he said. There is huge scope for Monument Tourism too and these two can be integrated, he added.

Bommai also assured temple archakas that he would address their issues and called for maintenance of cleanliness in temples and also pollution-free ambience in temple premises.

In Karnataka, there are more than 34,000 temples where about 50,000 archaks, pradhan archaks, Group C and D employees, including contract workers, work.

"The ITMS is in line with PM Modi's Digital India dream," said Minister Shashikala Jolle. "The ITMS and 'Daiva Sankalpa' are two of our Department's ambitious projects. Our Department is committed to provide excellent facilities to lakhs of devotees visiting the temples. Implementation of ITMS will make temple administration transparent and use funds efficiently," she said.

8 killed, 9 injured as Russia shells Ukraine

- Ukrainian President declares martial law
- India works out massive evacuation plan

Kiev (Kyiv), Feb. 24 (Agencies)- Ukraine said that at least eight people were killed and nine wounded by Russian shelling. The casualties are the latest in a series of fast-paced developments that began when Russian President Vladimir Putin announced a military operation in Ukraine early Thursday.

Following this, explosions were reported in several areas of Ukraine and air sirens went off in Kiev, indicating that the capital city is under attack. Shortly afterwards, the Russian Defence Ministry said that Ukraine's air bases and military infrastructure has been neutralised. Russian-backed separatists claimed control of two towns in the Luhansk region of Ukraine.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskiy declared martial law and the Ukrainian Foreign Minister vowed to defeat Russia. Putin said clashes between Russian & Ukrainian are "inevitable". Putin even called on Ukrainian service members to "lay down their arms and go home". He said special military action was "aimed at demilitarisation and denazification of Ukraine".

India evacuation plan

Meanwhile, India is looking for alternative routes to evacuate its citizens living in Ukraine after the east European nation closed its airspace following a Russian invasion. An Air India flight going to Ukraine turned back for Delhi this morning. Flight trackers on the internet show no commercial aircraft in Ukrainian airspace as of now. Sources said high-level meetings are going on at Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), to work out contingency plans & find alternate evacuation routes for thousands of Indian citizens living in Ukraine.

More Russian-speaking officials have been sent to India's embassy in Ukraine and are being deployed in countries neighbouring Ukraine, sources in the MEA have said. The Indian embassy has also issued a set of guidelines to students and others who live in the country. The Indian embassy warned that citizens "travelling to Kyiv, including those travelling from western parts of Kyiv, are advised to return to their respective cities temporarily, especially towards safer places along the western bordering countries."

"The present situation in Ukraine is highly uncertain. Please maintain calm and remain safe wherever you are, be it in your homes, hostels, and accommodations or in transit," said the Indian embassy.

Vidyarthi Ekta Manvantara: State Executive Meeting of NSUI held in city

Centre has failed in resolving unemployment problem: Former MP

Mysuru, Feb.24 (MTY&DM)- Accusing the Narendra Modi-led BJP Government at the Centre of failing to address unemployment issues, KPCC Working President and former Congress MP R. Dhruvanarayan alleged that the Union Government was creating more unemployment by privatising public sectors.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Vidyarthi Ekta Manvantara' State Executive Meeting of National Students Union of India (NSUI), Karnataka, at Congress Bhavan near the City Railway Station here on Wednesday.

Contending that the Centre was out to create a sense of insecurity by privatisation of the public sector, Dhruvanarayan said this was a move to deprive reservation in jobs. Charging the Central and State Governments of spreading religious fanaticism and hatred among the student community by dividing the society on communal lines, the former MP said that the NSUI should stand up to such divisive politics and thwart any attempts to disrupt unity and harmony.

Taking a dig at the BJP for making false promises on job creation and employment opportunities, Dhruvanarayan said that jobs are fast vanishing and the Centre was doing little to create jobs.

Asking the NSUI to create awareness and sensitise the student community on the dubious and disruptive ways of the BJP, the KPCC working President also wanted the NSUI to take up student issues such as rising College fees, non-distribution of scholarship for SC/ST students, lapses in bus pass issuance and such others.

Maintaining that the BJP Government's policies were badly hurting the student community, he said that the NSUI, apart from its regular activities, must also concentrate on organising the student community and thus help the Congress regain power in the State and the country.

City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, former MLAs Vasu and M.K. Somashekar, NSUI State President Keerthi Ganesh, office-bearers H.A. Rohit Singh, S.R. Prashanth, Balaraju, Sagar, Samir, Adnan and others were present.

MySugar to re-start functioning from this year, says Minister

Mandya, Feb.24 (Mohan Raj)- The operations of MySugar, Mandya's iconic sugar factory, which were shut down in 2019-2020, will resume this year.

Speaking to presspersons after visiting MySugar factory here on Wednesday, Minister for Sugar and Textiles Shankar Patil Munenakoppa said that the Government was doing everything it can to revive the nearly century old sugar factory, which is also a pride of the people of Mandya.

Pointing out that technical and financial committees have been formed as part of revival plans, Munenakoppa said that there need not be any doubts regarding the re-start of the factory.

Maintaining that the Government too wants to see MySugar in its past glory, the Minister said that the Government was also working out plans for revival of all other State-run factories.

Continuing, the Minister said that following directions from the Chief Minister, he has instructed the officials to ensure that there is no delay in re-starting of the factory. The Government has taken necessary measures for releasing funds to carry out maintenance, repairs and replacement of machinery, he added.

MP Sumalatha Ambarish, MLAs Dr. K. Annadani, M. Srinivas and D.C. Thammanna, MLC Dinesh Gooligowda, Mandya Deputy Commissioner S. Aswathi, Assistant Commissioner Shivananda Murthy, Information Officer T.K. Harish, MySugar Chairman Shivalingegowda, farmer leaders and others were present.

Trucks park on MUDA land

Now as the trucks have moved to MUDA 'Industrial A Layout' vacant plots 68/C, 68/D, 68/E and 73/A — adjacent to Gumnam Shahwali Dargah — there are fewer trucks on Jodi Thenginamara Road. As per the request from the Railway Goods Shed Lorry Owners Association, MUDA decided to allow the parking of trucks after taking rent for the land, putting a temporary end to the long-standing problem.

Lack of basic amenities

Meanwhile, Railway Goods Shed Lorry Owners Association President Abdul Khader Shahid has urged MUDA to provide civic amenities such as sanitation, drinking water, power connection etc., at the new location.

"There are over 800 workers who come here daily and there is no water and toilets. Also, there is no shade to park our trucks and we are forced to stay inside vehicles," he told SOM this morning.

Shahid also raised the issue of the Railways blocking a two-furlong stretch of a public road that has been blocked by the Railways near the Ring Road at Bannimantap. The road provides a direct connection between the Railway Goods Shed and the Ring Road.

"Citing safety reasons, the Railways have blocked the road and many efforts by Narasimharaja MLA Tanveer Sait have yielded no results. The MLA had met the Divisional Railway Manager of South Western Railway many times and even had discussion with the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner. But the Railways have not obliged," he said.

"The Hazrath Gumnam Shahwali Dargah Road was developed at a cost of Rs. 16 crore due to the efforts of Tanveer Sait. The road was developed and a new bridge was constructed for connectivity exclusively for the movement of trucks. A huge mound near the Dargah was also partly cleared to facilitate road construction. Despite all these efforts, the Railways have not budged and have refused to clear the road," he added.

New road not realised

MUDA had taken up the road works between the Goods Shed and the Ring Road worth Rs. 15 crore but the Railways has refused to part with the land. In the past, the Railways has stated that the new road cannot be made as it will come close to the Railway track and trespass cannot be permitted near the track. "Heavy movement of trucks is a safety issue. The present road arrangement is functioning smoothly from the Goods Shed area side. Hence, in view of safety, the new road cannot be made," Railways had stated earlier.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Gods of the Week

The seven-day-week is not based on any natural phenomena. The ancient Mesopotamians decided that the 7th, 14th, 21st and 28th days after the new moon were days of rest and that is how the concept of the week began. Sumerians believed that the Gods flooded the earth for seven days and a new world began afresh when that seven days ended.

Later, Babylonians wrote how Gods created laws written in seven tablets over seven days. So, in Mesopotamian art we find images of seven Gods and in architecture we find seven rooms dedicated to these Gods.

This idea later influenced the Persians, then Greeks, then Romans and eventually, through trade routes, travelled to India during the Gupta period and China during the Tang period. So by 5th century, the idea of a seven day week had reached India. That is why the week does not figure in Vedic literature, but starts appearing in later Puranic and folk literature.

So the idea of fasting on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays or Saturdays are later Hindu practices. Originally, all practices were linked to the phases of the moon (tithi) and the movement of the sun relative to the stars.

The ancient Mesopotamians valued seven days because seven celestial bodies could be seen in the sky against the twinkling stars: the Sun, the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

Each day was dedicated to these Gods, with the Sun and the Moon playing the role of creator Gods. The Moon-God was the father God, creator of the Sun, as its waxing and waning was believed to be linked to the rise and fall of rivers that caused flood plains that formed the basis of Mesopotamian civilisation. Venus was the Moon's daughter, Ishtar.

Even today the Moon and Venus play key roles in Arab and Persian culture, a remnant of ancient mythologies. The idea of day of rest in Jewish, Christianity faiths, and the idea of God creating the world in seven days, all stem from ancient Mesopotamia. Mythologies are rarely original.

For the Mesopotamians, Tuesday was linked to war, Wednesday to writing, Thursday to kingship, Friday to love, and Saturday to harvest. For Romans therefore, weekdays were linked to Gods who displayed similar traits: Tuesday for aggressive Mars, Wednesday to messenger Mercury, Thursday to royal Jupiter, Friday to fertile Venus and Saturday to Saturday or Cronus, who consumes time.

In Norse tradition, which influenced Christian world a thousand years ago, these became the Gods Tyr, Wotan, Thor and Freia which give us our words for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Saturday, Sunday and Monday remained with Roman mythology.

When these ideas reached India, Mangal linked to war was linked to Tuesday, Budh linked to communication was linked to Wednesday, wise Brihaspati was linked to Thursday and kingship, as he is guru of Indra, Shukra linked to Friday and fertility as he is guru of asuras, who are fathers of Lakshmi, in Puranic traditions. Saturday is unique as Shani is linked to delays in Hinduism, not death. He is also linked to Shiva, hence rebirth, the son of the Sun-God, who fathers the new week, in effect the new Sunday.

Two-day Rural Theatre Fest concludes

Mysuru, Feb. 24- The two-day 'Graama Rangotsava-2022,' a rural Theatre Fest organised by the city's Rangayaana Trust, in association with Karnataka Nataka Academy, Bengaluru, at K. Hemmanahalli on Bogadi Road in the taluk, concluded on Sunday.

Speaking after inaugurating the Theatre Fest, MLA G.T. Devegowda said that the Fest aimed at spreading the fragrance of theatre to rural areas.

Pointing out that Mysuru is known as the Cultural Capital of the State, he said that the erstwhile Mysuru rulers promoted art, literature, music, theatre, folklore and the like to a great extent.

Regretting that the love for theatre is dwindling by the day, thanks to modern gadgets such as mobile phones, Devegowda called for involvement of children and women folk for popularising the theatre even in rural areas.

Lauding the Rangayaana Trust for holding the event, he opined that the real strength of the theatre lies in rural areas.

Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) Chairman N.V. Phaneesh said that our country has multiple forms of theatre, which perhaps no other country in the world has.

Pointing out that theatre plays a major role in taking forward our rich culture and heritage, he said that it is easier to understand things by listening, rather than by reading them. Likewise, learning by seeing will be much more effective, he said adding that the theatre embodies hearing, seeing, understanding, feelings and the like.

Regretting that the present generation has developed a tendency to look at easier ways to earn name, fame and money in quick time, no matter by whichever means, he lauded Rangayaana for involving tribal youth and children in the theatre as part of an effort to bring them to the mainstream society.

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (2nd from right) and other dignitaries inaugurating 'Graama Rangotsava-2022' organised by Rangayaana Trust, in association with Karnataka Nataka Academy, Bengaluru, at K. Hemmanahalli on Bogadi Road in the taluk on Saturday.

The first day (Feb. 19) programme saw rendering of theatre songs followed by staging of the play 'Ogatina Rani'. Another play titled 'Swatantra Sangrama' was staged later in the day.

The two-day theatre event saw a total of 125 rural artistes enthusiastically taking part.

Yoga Vibhushana, Yoga Bhushana awards presented to achievers

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (MK&DM)- Maintaining that Yoga is not merely physical movements of the body but is also very much representative of the country's culture, Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa said that attempts to divide the country by anti-national elements must be thwarted at all costs.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Yoga Vibhushana' and 'Yoga Bhushana' awards presentation programme jointly organised by District Kannada Sahitya Parishat and Himalaya Pratishtana at District Sahitya Bhavan premises in Vijayanagar here recently.

Pointing out that the country has retained its rich culture and heritage despite numerous attacks by anti-national and other disruptive forces, Cariappa said that nature is being seen in the country as one of the many forms of the almighty. Our culture is very much symbolic of our country, he said and stressed on the need for conserving and nurturing our Mother Earth.

Noting that there is nothing more important than having education, Cariappa opined that we can learn all-important 'Samskara' through education.

Yogi Srinivas Arka was conferred 'Yoga Vibhushana' award while Dr. Devaki Madhav, Geetha Kumar, Vinay Kumar, Narasimha Shetty, Rakesh Jain and Ravi Prabhakar were conferred 'Yoga Bhushana' award on the occasion.

Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Maddikere Gopal, social worker Raghuram Vajpayee, Mysuru Yoga Association Vice-President Yoga Prakash, Muktaka Writer Kamala Rajesh, farmer leader Chandan Gowda, Congress leader N.M. 'In-depth research will help in new explorations in folklore'

Mysuru, Feb. 24 (SPN&DM)- University of Mysore Folklore Department faculty Dr. Nanjaiah Honganur said that in-depth studies will help in exploring new innovations in folklore and the recent programmes in mass media has brought a new ray of hope for youths engaged in folk arts.

He was speaking at the valedictory of folk dance training workshop organised by Kollegal's Vishwagnani Samskrutika Kala Trust at the open air theatre in Dhvanyaloka campus on Bogadi Road here on Sunday.

Maintaining that Coastal, North Karnataka, dry region and old Mysuru region folk styles are increasingly becoming popular for their songs, Dr. Nanjaiah Honganur called upon the participants to propagate folklore by forming their own teams. Highlighting the opportunities for folk artistes in Mysuru, especially during Dasara and other festivals, he said it is happy to note that more youths are getting attracted to folk arts.

Maharaja College Sociology faculty B.S. Dinamani said that she too participated in a similar workshop 17 years ago. Recalling that she entered the folk world through a free folk training workshop held at Kalamandira, she said that she had participated in numerous folk programmes and events since then.

Dr. Shivakumar, Dr. S. Balaji, N. Saraswathi and others were present. Students from different colleges presented a folk performance on the occasion.

WORD OF THE DAY

Invincible

Pronunciation: in-VIN-suh-bul.
Meaning: Invincible means "incapable of being conquered, overcome, or subdued."
Origin: Invincible comes from Latin invincibilis—a combination of the negative prefix in- with the Latin verb vincere, meaning "to conquer." Vincere also gave English vincible, meaning (unsurprisingly) "capable of being overcome or subdued."
Example: "After many makeovers, changes to the backstory, and noting that 'bad' guys don't sell newspapers very well, (his Superman stories were rejected by publishers for years) he finally settled on the version we have today: a nearly invincible man, handsome, incorruptible, honest to the core, who stands for justice, and who is a champion of the downtrodden." — Terry Mejdrich.

THE ODD WORD

Ichu

Andean alpine grass.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Long in the tooth

Meaning: You use the expression 'Long in the Tooth' to indicate that someone is old.
Origin: A horse's teeth grow with age, and the length of the front teeth is often used as an indicator of equine age. Thus 'long in the tooth' equates to old age.
Example: "Fred is getting to be pretty long in the tooth."
